3. Registration

Registration is not required to browse the Website. Users of the Website who are also subscribers of Mobile or Fixed-Line services can use the Website to access data regarding respective subscriber accounts. To gain access to this data, users/subscribers who want to use this convenience must register on the Website, following the automated registration process on the Website. The same applies for access to certain services or for connection to certain of the Website's web pages.

A) Users already registered on the www.ote.gr or www.cosmote.gr web pages.

Users who are already registered on one of the two web pages above are provided with the convenience of using a single user name and password ("single sign on") for the OTE Group's web pages.

"Single sign on" enables users, should they so desire, to use the same username

/password they have for entering one of the two web pages above to enter the other website. In this way, users can use a single user name/password, without the need to create a new user name or use multiple passwords to register on the other web pages of the companies of the OTE Group.

. Users who registered before 11 May 2014 on more than one of the web pages of the companies of the OTE Group can merge their user names and passwords.

To initiate the merging process, the Registered user must select the “Merge Access Data” link.

On the page that appears, the user follows these steps: Step 1

- The user selects from a list the website on which he/she is already registered
- The user enters the user name and password they want to merge. If the user has user names and passwords for more than one website, he/she follows the same procedure.

Step 2

The user sets the user name and password he/she wants to use to access all of the websites of the companies of the OTE Group.

Step 3

The procedure is completed and the user is taken to a confirmation page showing his/her user name and the web pages he/she can access.

The information on this page is sent to the email address designated by the user.

Merging of data is technically feasible only for registrations carried out before 11 May 2014.

Users who are already registered on the above pages who register on the Website using the “single sign on” convenience can, during their login to the Website, be informed automatically of and benefit from the special offers made by the Companies from time to time, in accordance with their respective commercial policies.

B) Users not registered on the web pages who participate in the “single sign on”

The user enters his/her user name and sets the password he/she wants, following the Website's automated procedure.

Through the convenient "single sign on", with their first registration on an OTE Group web page, users can use a single user name/password, without the need to create new user identities or multiple passwords to register on the other web pages of the companies of the OTE Group participating in the "single sign on".

The user acknowledges and accepts that the convenient "single sign on" option for registering on a web page of the companies of the OTE Group under the same user name entails use of the same password on the OTE Group web pages below.

The following web pages participate in the "single sign on":

- www.cosmote.gr
- www.cosmote.gr/dealsforyou
- www.cosmote.cloudportal.gr
- www.germanos.gr
- <https://businessmarketplace.cosmote.gr>
- <https://cloudservices.cosmote.gr>

In any case, users who so desire may use a different user name on each web page.

User names and passwords are strictly personal for each registered user and must not be divulged to any third party.

Users are responsible for all actions carried out under their personal passwords and are obliged to inform OTE or COSMOTE immediately of any unauthorized user who may act under those passwords. Otherwise, the Companies are not responsible for any damage to the user from unauthorized or illegal use of the personal passwords by third parties.
